"WISE SILENCE"

It is known that, profiting by the experience of the extra session last year, the democrats in congress at the present session have determined to maintain silence. As they can not open their mouths without betraying themselves, this policy of silence may be wise, as viewed from their standpoint, but it will not be satisfactory. The New York Tribune puts it this way:

"There is a general disposition on the part of the democratic press to pat the democrats in congress on the back for the judicious and self-denying silence they maintained on the passage of the army appropriation bill with their rider. And they deserve it. They were notably quiet. Mr. Samuel Cox, of course, bulged in once on General Hawley with the statement-like inquiry whether it 'hurt him much to kick at nothing,' and on General Hawley's answering that he was 'not kicking at him, but at the whole democratic party,' tucked his tail and retired. Aside from this, they held their peace, partly, perhaps, because it had been threatened that if any democrat did otherwise they would 'shoot him on the spot.' The democratic newspapers are quite right, in giving their representatives great praise for such unusual self-restraint and in calling their silence 'wise.' For a party that has exhibited such transcendent gifts at blundering, and that has never yet opened its mouth without putting its foot in it, nothing could be more wise than silence, nothing more fatal than speech. This is the policy of the 'still hunt.' The game is the same as at the extra session, when the chase failed because of the boisterousness of the pursuit. From the opening moment of that session when 'yelled on the view the opening pack,' they all gave tongue and were in full cry constantly. The result everybody knows. They comprehended it themselves. Hence, when the old questions come up on which they blundered so before, and with them comes the temptation to talk, they all say 'Sa-b-b-d' and tip-toe with fingers on their lips.

"The purpose of this unusual self-restraint is not far to seek. Fortunately it is so plain that everybody can see and understand it. It is not to save time, though that was faintly avowed. A congress that spends thirty days in filibustering against an effort to make its record consistent with its

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

Delegates Appointed to Nashville and Resolutions Adopted.

In accordance with publication herebefore made, the republicans of Knox county assembled at the court house at noon yesterday, for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the state convention, which assemblies in Nashville, May 5th, to send delegates to the national convention, at Chicago, June 2nd.

The convention was called to order by Geo. L. Maloney, secretary of the county executive committee, who read the call, and nominated as chairman Jas. M. Crawford, who was unanimously elected.

On motion of W. F. Yardley, A. E. T. Draper, was elected secretary.

Maj. A. S. Prosser moved the appointment of a committee of seven to select delegates to the Nashville convention, the limit in number to be 57 delegates.

The motion prevailed, and the following were appointed by the chair as such committee: A. S. Prosser, Isham Young, J. M. Murphy, M. D. Bearden, W. A. A. Conner, Geo. L. Maloney and Benjamin Maynard.

On motion of Major E. C. Camp, the following committee of seven was appointed on resolutions: E. C. Camp, H. R. Gibson, G. W. LeVere, W. H. Roberts, J. B. Derieux, W. Y. Cox, Bartley Gilpin.

While the committee were out, Judge L. C. Houk, representative in congress from this district, was called upon and made a short speech, touching mostly on national issues, and referring briefly to local politics.

The committee on resolutions unanimously reported as follows:

Whereas, The time being near at hand when once more the republican party of this county will be called upon to elect delegates to the Nashville convention, and to select delegates to the national convention, and good faith toward public creditors, whether of the Nation or State, is a party duty, and for the purpose of free voting, honest elections and equal rights—the party who, having saved the Union, now defend its honor—will appeal to the people, and as congressmen we feel that from wise financial measures on our part, despite the revolutionary, extravagant and corrupt means resorted to by the democratic party to check and destroy these measures, we are in the midst of returning prosperity, retarded only by that fast-growing, rapidly-developing spirit of repudiation which has seized hold of the democratic party, especially in this State, as shown both in its party platform and acts:

And, whereas, we regard this democratic tendency to favor repudiation as a matter of most vital concern, and to check and destroy these measures, we are in the midst of returning prosperity, retarded only by that fast-growing, rapidly-developing spirit of repudiation which has seized hold of the democratic party, especially in this State, as shown both in its party platform and acts:

Resolved, 1. That the public credit, whether of the nation or of a state, must be sacredly maintained and discharged, and we denounce repudiation in every form and guise.

2. As a worthy and distinguished champion of these views, and a man of proven competence for the position, we recommend to the convention, as our candidate for governor, Wm. Rule, and hereby instruct our delegates to support and urge his nomination.

Resolved, That while we commit to the convention at Nashville the declaration of principles of a national nature, we are opposed to any instruction to the delegates which shall prevent any delegate to Chicago from so voting as in the exercise of his wisest judgment will best secure to the republican party success in the presidential election, and a president deserving, capable and worthy of the high office.

Resolved, That the course of Hon. L. C. Houk in the congress of the United States has been such as to meet our unqualified approbation, and that we take pleasure in commending his industry and attention to the wants of our people that we honor him for his undiminished devotion to the cause of our party, and rejoice that we have a representative willing and able to vindicate the honor of the south.

Resolved, That our republican president in his late contest with the democrats deserves the sympathy and support of every true republican; and that we condemn any alliance or combination with Latham G. Harris and the confederate brigades in congress to defeat the appointments of President Hayes as treasonable to our party, and calculated to give aid and comfort to the rebels.

Resolved, That the vote of this county in the state convention be cast as a unit, that no proxies be permitted, and that the delegates who attend the convention at Nashville cast the entire vote of the county.

The resolutions were adopted, after which the committee appointed to select delegates to the state republican convention, reported the following names as delegates, which was also adopted:

Hon. L. C. Houk, Hon. J. M. Thurnburgh, Hon. William Rule, Hon. M. D. Bearden, Hon. Henry R. Gibson, Hon. P. P. Rempe, Dr. Geo. W. LeVere, J. M. Murphy, W. A. A. Conner, Geo. L. Maloney, Benjamin Maynard, A. C. E. Calles, B. W. Kennedy, A. T. Cottrell, Homer Gilmore, Adam Lee, R. M. Hall, W. E. Hedgecock, W. H. Roberts, J. A. Rule, E. J. Sanford, A. B. Prosser, Andy Knott, Thomas A. R. Nelson, Adrian Terry, Henry M. Call, Joseph R. York, Isham Young, E. C. Camp, J. B. Hoxie, Brisco Goodheart, J. A. Swan, W. F. Gibbs, S. T. LeVere, W. B. Kline, Phillip Starned, John Chaney, L. D. Lott, W. F. Stirling, W. W. Cruise, J. M. Crawford, A. E. T. Draper, Julius Mayer, W. M. Harris, W. Y. Cox, J. J. Martin, C. B. Gosselt, T. J. Crawford, Izah Fanz, William Bradley, Burrill Blair, John L. Hubbard.

We further recommend that should any of the foregoing delegates fail to attend the convention at Nashville, then those delegates attending shall cast the vote of the county.

On motion of E. C. Camp the convention then adjourned sine die.

The convention was a representative one, and the proceedings were entirely harmonious.

Republican State Convention.
OFFICE STATE REP. EX. COM., NASHVILLE, TENN., Feb. 6, 1880.
A Convention of Republicans of Tennessee will be held at Nashville, in the hall of the House of Representatives, at 12 o'clock, m., on May 5th, for the purpose of naming a candidate for Governor of Tennessee, and to select twenty-four delegates to attend the National Republican Convention, which meets at Chicago, Ill., on June 2nd. Also, to transact such other business as may come before it.

The call for the convention in our State Convention will be only delegate from each county in the State, and one additional delegate from each county for every two hundred votes, or fractional part of two hundred over one hundred, cast for the republican candidates for Electors in 1876.

JOSEPH R. DILLIN,
Chairman State Rep. Ex. Com.

The Washington Sunday School Convention.

The 7th and 8th of May, the time of holding our annual Sunday school convention, is drawing near. Delegates should be appointed not later than the last Sunday of this month if possible.

The names of all delegates will be registered in a fine record book for future reference. It is our request to the delegates that every one be present at the opening and remain to the closing of the convention. A fine map of the county is being prepared by Prof. Frank Smith, on which will be represented every school reported in the county with a star. Let every community have a star, as this map will go to the London convention.

Our honest pride for the standing of our county should stimulate us to work. This is a union work, in which no denomination is known above another.

The finest black-board worker in East Tennessee, from the Concord school, will be present to illustrate the work.

The following persons have been selected as officers, organizers and choristers for the convention:

Ushers—Charles Thompson, of Washington; Prof. Wright, of Rocky Dale; Howard Parker, of Spring Place; Frank Murphy, of Corinth; John Thompson, of Fancy Hill; and Joseph Conner, of Forest Hill.

Organists—Miss C. G. Anderson, Miss Hattie Champion, Miss K. Anna Crozier, Will Price.

Choristers—W. R. Murphy, John Roberts, Eli Skaggs and Charles Conner.

It is desired that the music be of the most devotional and soul-stirring character. The choristers are requested to meet at 9 o'clock at the church for conference.

Every fine singer in Knox county is constituted a member of the grand choir. The convention will use exclusively the "Gospel Echoes" music book. While there will be a large number on hand, all who have copies are requested to bring them.

The Sunday school scholars will play a more prominent part in this convention than ever before. Let every family who can, within five or six miles of the church, are requested to bring abundance of dinner.

W. A. ANDERSON,
W. R. MURPHY.
